Our readers have spoken, the votes have been tallied, and the results are in.

Each year, the Radio Ink Readers' Choice Awards reflect which syndicated shows are making an impact on the radio landscape. This year, the list is highlighted by the debut of several new finalists, while also featuring characteristic strong finishes for listener favorites. Interestingly, a couple of hosts shifted to new categories this year, a sign that the Talk radio landscape — and its top talent — don't always stick to the same old formula. One formula they do share, however, is the formula for success. So congratulations to this year's Radio Ink Readers' Choice Awards winners!
